Figures Don't Lie.

It doesn't take much knowledge of mathematics to figure out the facts about that dread disease—consumption. Statisticians long ago demonstrated that one-seventh of all the deaths in Christendom each year may be safely attributed to consumption and allied diseases.

There is an almost certain cure and a positive preventive for this fatal disease taken in time. The story of what it will do is told in the following letter:

"About two and a half years ago, when I was 'Flat Dick,' writes J. W. Jordan, Esq., of Corbin, Whitley Co., Ky., 'I was taken with severe pains in the chest, after I began to spit up blood and was also troubled with night sweats. I was so short winded that I could hardly walk half a mile at once, and I began to lose weight. I would have an attack of phthisis (asthma) and almost die for about two or three days. I concluded to try Dr. R. V. Pierce and I related my case to him. He wrote me that I should take his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I began using it and used about six bottles. I began to feel that it was helping me, so concluded to continue its use. I did so and have improved both in strength and in weight. I have not had the phthisis nor spit up any blood since last spring."

This great remedy—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—cures 98 per cent. of all lung, bronchial, throat and kindred affections which, if neglected lead up to consumption. It strengthens the stomach and makes the appetite keen and hearty. It invigorates the liver and aids the natural processes of secretion and excretion. It makes the assimilation of the food perfect. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. Honest dealers will not urge you to take a substitute said to be 'just as good.' Send for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. FREE. Enclose 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for a paper-covered copy. Cloth binding, ten cents extra. It is a thousand page book with over seven hundred illustrations; formerly sold for $1.50. For limited time can be had for cost of mailing.

The Madrid Museum.

After the social side of life in the Spanish capital has lost some of its novelty there are always the collections to see and admire. And, after all, the crowning glory of the place is the Museo del Prado, which, if not the finest in Europe, at least ranks with the Louvre and the galleries of Dresden and Florence, says a correspondent in the Chicago Record. The gallery is especially rich in portraits of the great kings of Spain, and its chief treasures are the works of Diego Velasquez, some 60 in number. The light of the gallery itself is perhaps poor, but the charm of being able to walk undisturbed and never crowded amid this marvelous collection of works by the masters is enough of itself to repay a visit to Spain. The royal collection of armor at the palace is as interesting as the Prado pictures, in a way, and after these collections come others less notable, but worthy of a great capital.

JOHN EXAUD, Proprietor.

"I happen to have a dress coat," said a man about town, "that was made by Poole, the famous London tailor, and I've preserved it with a good deal of care. To tell the truth, I attached less value to the garment itself than I did to the sign manual of the house, emblazoned on a strip of white silk and stitched inside the collar. It was a trifle mobbish, I dare say, but if so I've received my punishment."

"A few weeks ago I took the coat along with me on a trip to Florida, and while at a small coast resort I noticed the buttons were getting worn. The only tailor in town was a Chinaman, and I gave him the coat with instructions to repair the damages, which he did very neatly. I had forgotten all about the incident, and one evening during carnival was at the club chatting with some visitors from Detroit when somehow or other the conversation turned on high art tailoring."

"One of the strangers sang the praises of a chap at his home, and I, like a fool, couldn't resist the temptation of remarking that my suit was made by Poole. Thereupon the other fellow expressed curiosity as to how the English tailors inserted the shoulder reinforcements of dress coats, and I obligingly slipped mine off to allow him to examine it. He looked it over, and when he handed it back I noticed that he wore a peculiar smile. 'It was no wonder, for, by Jove, in place of the great hideous pink tab bearing the legend, 'Charley One-Lung, Merchant Tailor, Wayback, Fla.!'—New Orleans Times-Democrat."

"Of course you can't imagine what curious experiences we have with sick people," confided a trained nurse. "I have just come from a very interesting case—a dear old lady, lovely in every way, but utterly unmanageable and unreasonable on the subject of early rising. The dear woman cannot turn over in her bed or put her hand to her head—she is fatally ill, poor creature—but she wakes me every morning at 5 o'clock to have her face and hands bathed and her cap changed. 'Oh,' I groan, 'it is only 5 o'clock, Mrs. Lorrimer; that is too early for sick people to get awake! Let us have another little nap.'"

"No, no," she always answers; 'my father reared me to get up at 5 o'clock. I can't disobey my training. You must make my toilet. I mustn't sleep any longer.'"

"So I have to get awake, prepare the dear old lady for the day—80 years old she is, and weak and sick—just because she was reared by a father with abnormal ideas of rising time."—Indianapolis Journal.

IS RENO SLEEPING?

Nature has given to Reno a commanding position as a commercial and manufacturing center over other localities in the State. Its natural advantages are superior to those of any other place east of the Sierras and west of Salt Lake. Its water supply is without a limit for power purposes. Its location east of the Sierras and west of the Washoe and other mountain ranges gives it control of business interests in the valleys lying east of the Sierras and west of the mountain ranges to the east. It is the key to all the inter-montane valleys that are north and west from the Truckee river. It commands by natural position territory hundreds of miles north-erly and southerly from the Truckee. In the near future the railways leading to the north and south and which have a terminus at Reno, connecting with the Central Pacific, will be extended to make connection with other railway systems that cross the continent. Our trade, local and national, over the Pacific ocean will be increased in the next three years three hundred fold. Railway systems not now mentioned will be required to meet the demand of ever increasing trade. The pulsations of increased action in the near future are perceptible to any observer, through the active attention given by capitalists at this time to the great future of the Pacific coast as a trade center, which action by capitalists is giving a stimulus to mining, agriculture and stock-raising industries within the State, and confidence is taking the place of doubt in the minds of the people, causing healthful activity in business not known in Nevada for the last decade. Situated as we are, will Reno and our business men sleep in the future, as we have slept in the past, and not take an interest in the general business conditions that are upon us? The town newspapers have been trying to direct the thinking members of the community, to the necessity there is for effort to secure at the beginning of new business relations, the advantages there are that require care to direct them to our town as a business center. There is a latent power for good in the business people of Reno, but it seems next to impossible to make it patent by action in any particular direction that is useful—the old prairie schooner mode of doing business seems to be deeprooted in our business methods. We are from habit in a rut, and routine has become a system in our business life. Those who are alive to their business interests in a business way come to our town and take our trade from us, and, like old hens who are scared in the night time when varmints are about, we sit and squawk about the people sending out of town for their supplies. It seems not to have occurred to any of us that there is a remedy, if applied, that will exclude people who forage by taking from our town the trade that rightfully belongs to it, and should remain to aid in upbuilding our home interests. While we speak so plain that it may seem harsh, do not believe that we do not understand and fully appreciate the obstacles that have been and are in our way to business supremacy east of the mountains. The barriers to prosperity in Reno and in Nevada are not obstacles that Nature has placed in our pathway to prosperity. The environments that are about us and all that we do are a result of the agency of man, and they should be removed by the same agency.

HONESTY IN POLITICS

A San Francisco paper says that Quay should not be judged individually by his political acts, for aside from politics he may be an honest man. Besides being unfortunate in the selection of a bank wrecker and notoriously all around rascal, to illustrate a general proposition, the suggestion itself is as absurd as it is libelous to every principle which guide the actions of honest men. A dishonest politician but an honest man, is as anomalous as an honest pickpocket. The spirit of innate dishonesty which impells a housebreaker to pursue his criminal occupation would assert itself if he was engaged in a legitimate business or profession. A dishonest politician is no more to be trusted in other matters than is a bunco steerer in concerns apart from the regular course of his nefarious practice. A politician who would break a promise, lie or adopt dishonest means to attain his ends, would, as a business man forfeit his word, deceive or do anything dishonorable, where the end to be obtained was, in his opinion, of greater importance to his interest than his reputation for fair dealing with his fellow men. The saying, "everything is fair in politics," is the outgrowth of a pernicious system, which has obtained to a greater extent in this country than any other on the face of the globe. It is an excuse for dishonesty, and is never seriously quoted as an axiom by self respecting and right thinking men. The great men, past or present, of the nation, never attained their distinction by its observance. It is a safe rule to regard a person who is unprincipled in political matters, as an all around dishonest man.

DEWEY DAY.

To-morrow will be the first anniversary of the great battle which was decisive of the result of the war conducted by our liberty-loving country for the disenfranchisement of Cuba from the oppressive rule of Spain. The achievement and the heroic commander will go down in history as the greatest naval exploit and exploiter of this or any other age, and the name of Dewey will never be forgotten, nor the lauder of his heroism dimmed, while the American Republic holds a place among the nations of the earth. The observance of the anniversary which will be inaugurated to-morrow, will be continued by future generations as the day the American nation demonstrated to the world its supremacy in naval warfare and its ability, not only to protect its own liberty, but to confer the precious boon upon others who were struggling, as we once did, for freedom from monarchical rule. Let Reno not be behind in manifesting its respect and admiration for the hero of the age.

DEWEY DAY.

Resolutions for its Observance in Reno.

By proclamation Governor Sadler has designated and appointed Monday, May 1, 1899, as a day to be observed in commemoration of the naval victory achieved by Admiral George Dewey in the bay of Manila, May 1, 1898.

As the time is very short in which to make arrangements for the observance of "Dewey Day," members of the University faculty have made suggestions which have led to the appointment of the undersigned committee of arrangements. The committee make the following recommendations for the observance of "Dewey Day" in Reno:

1. That the people of Reno and vicinity observe the day in the spirit of a healthful patriotic life.

2. That all business houses, the public, training and parochial schools and the University close at 12 o'clock, noon, Monday.

3. That Hastings' band and the cadet band, the Cadet Battalion, Company C of the National Guards, the veterans of the G. A. R. and the various fraternal orders and citizens join in a street parade at half past six o'clock p. m. That bonfires be lighted upon the public square and a national salute be fired.

4. That the people assemble in the opera house at 8 p. m. to listen to patriotic music and to ten minute speeches by Hon. A. E. Ohenev, Hon. P. L. Flanagan, Judge B. F. Curler, Prof. Jackson and Rev. Samuel Unsworth.

5. That Hon. Wm. Webster act as Chairman, Col. Pete Evans as collector and Sheriff W. H. McInnis as Marshal.

These recommendations are made by your committee who respectfully ask for approval by the citizens of Reno.

A Narrow Escape.
Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled upon my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four Doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and colds. I gave it a trial took eight bottles in all. It has cured me, and thank God, I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

The machinery in the Justice Court at Truckee is not out of gear, but is exceedingly rusty. There has not been a case this month.—Republican

Of course the old lady is not "onto" everything in this world, and neither is Looft—maybe.

THE BODIES RECOVERED.
Full Particulars Regarding the Awful Accident at Clark's.
At ten minutes past eight o'clock last evening a special train from Clark's Station pulled into Reno, bearing the remains of the three men who were killed by the caving of a well at that place.
The work of recovering the bodies from the well progressed slowly, owing to the water, which flowed in constantly, but after the removal of debris had progressed far enough to permit the operation of a pump, a locomotive engine was called into play, and a steam pump was soon clearing the well of water. For nearly five hours the pump worked steadily, and yet the water was but imperceptibly lowered. At last, however, the bottom was reached, and the work of removing debris commenced.
As the bodies were buried to the depth of ten feet under a mass of wet sand, all of which had to be removed by a common windlass and bucket which was stopped every few minutes in order to pump out more water, the last body was only recovered at 7 o'clock last night, after working all yesterday and the previous night. The first body was taken out at 1 o'clock P. M. and the second at 3 P. M.
The remains were horribly bruised and mutilated. Death must have been almost instantaneous when the great mass of wet earth and timbering fell upon them. The current report that at least one man was alive shortly after the accident because a rapping was heard upon an iron pipe, is but an unfounded supposition.
The first body was found in a kneeling position, the second in a sitting position and the third lying flat on its face in the extreme bottom of the well. The Portuguese Saraceno had his shoulder badly crushed, and Fairbairn's back was broken. As soon as the last corpse was recovered they were placed in the special train in waiting and sent to Reno.
The three men who met their death in this terrible manner were well known in Reno, all having many friends here.
John Downey was a native of Scotland and aged 28 years. He has a father and mother living in Scotland, who were at once telegraphed the sad news. His funeral will take place in Reno from the residence of A. J. Holmes, who was an intimate friend of the deceased.
Robert Fairbairn was a native of Canada, aged 40 years, and a resident of Oak Park, Sacramento county, California, where his remains were shipped last evening, in the care of his brother, J. T. Fairbairn of Oak Park. He leaves a wife, but no children.
Mannuel F. Saraceno was a native of Portugal and aged 30 years. He leaves no relatives in Reno except a cousin. The funeral will take place from the Catholic Church at 2 o'clock, Monday afternoon.
Serious Accident.
While engaged in operating the steam pump which was improvised to clear out the well, in order to recover the bodies of the men killed in the accident at Clark's station, W. R. Skedd the section foreman, was severely scalded from the waist down by a steam pipe becoming disconnected. He was suffering greatly when shipped to the Sacramento hospital last evening for treatment. Other men were also scalded, but none seriously.
Word from Ira Loomis.
Mrs. F. McRae received a short letter yesterday from her brother Ira, who was so seriously injured several days ago in New Mexico. His physician also wrote, giving her the full particulars in regard to his condition. He states that it was a very severe fracture of the back. He is paralyzed from his waist down, and has very little use of his hands. There is no hope for his recovery, though he may linger for some time. He is receiving excellent care in one of the hospitals, but his relatives will move him to Los Angeles if, in time, his condition will permit.
It is indeed gratifying to Mrs. McRae to have received a message from her brother after the first word which came as such a shock.

I, Reinhold Sadler, Governor of the State of Nevada, do hereby designate Monday, the 1st day of May, 1899, as a day to be observed in commemoration of the glorious naval victory achieved by Admiral George Dewey, in the bay of Manila, May 1, 1898. I earnestly recommend the observance of said day by the people of Nevada in such manner as to do honor to the great victory won on that day."
The above is a copy of the Governor's proclamation.

Filipino War May be Over.
Late advices from the seat of war in the Philippines are to the effect that the rebel leader, Aguinaldo, is anxious to have hostilities suspended for two weeks, so he can call together and consult the rebel congress upon the advisability of a surrender by the rebels. A flag of truce and two officers of General Luna's staff made their appearance at the American lines and made known their mission. They were conducted to the American General commanding and stated the desire of their chief for a cessation of active war. General Otis replied that unconditional surrender was the only condition upon which he would act; that he did not recognize the existence of a Filipino government or its congress, and would not treat with any such bodies.
Later some conditions were submitted, including terms of surrender, but it was claimed that they had not the authority to conclude its terms. The Filipino officers were treated kindly by General Otis, and were sent away under guard to insure their safe return. They said they would return with additional powers, which may be true, if Aguinaldo is not playing for time. The Filipinos are cunning diplomats; it belongs to the race.

Young People to Hold Services.
This morning at several of the churches delegates from the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations will have charge of the services, and will address the congregations upon the Christian work at the University. The Baptist and Congregational churches have given the students the whole service, and the Methodist church has granted them part of the time. The speakers are assigned as follows:
Baptist Church—Miss Sparks, Miss Dodd, Mr. Bonham.
Congregational Church—Miss Montrose, Miss Sprague, Mr. Howe.
Methodist Church—Miss Howe, Mr. Anderson.
Will be Arrested.
U. S. Marshall Frank Emmett left on last evening's east bound train for the Shoshone reservation, the scene of the late shooting trouble. He had warrants for the arrest of Miss Egan, the school teacher, Dr. Merriweather and Frank Carson, the reservation blacksmith.
U. S. District Attorney Summerfield has found a provision in an act passed at the last session of Congress, which, in his opinion, will cover the case regardless of the faulty law mentioned in yesterday's JOURNAL.
The arrested parties will be taken to Winnemucca for examination.
A Correction.
By a slip of the pencil the JOURNAL yesterday made Dr. Stabbs, instead of Governor Sadler, the appointee of the Board of Honorary Visitors for the State University. As the doctor has no disposition to assume the authority of the State executive, he desires us to make the correction, which we cheerfully do.
